

- 1 Each project has a dedicated team.
- 2 Each team understands the motivations of the project partners.
- 3 Each team has a clear task and problem definition.
- 4 Each team defines success metrics in advance that contribute to the company and project goals.
- 5 Each team works together in an agile way and has clear roles, rules and rituals.
- 6 Each team works in increments and tests its work-in-progress with low effort and high frequency.
- 7 Each team organises its work in a transparent and accessible way.
- 8 Each team works together with project partners in a structured way and communicates progress regularly.
- 9 Each team understands the users, their contexts and infrastructure before developing new solutions.
- 10 Each team reuses existing patterns and components.
- 11 Each team takes responsibility for quality, risks, security and accessibility.
- 12 Each team releases continuously and is responsible for operations until handover.